POOL GUY

We talked to Vincent Brocci recently and learned some important things about Gold Crown's first POOL GUY.

POOL GUY, Vincent Brocci, has been coming to the Gold Crown for eight years. That's not all twenty five of the years that Gold Crown has been open but that's still a darn long time. (That's great, POOL GUY). Vincent comes to the Gold Crown every Thursday and plays pool with his brother, Tom. POOL GUY showed us that he is capable of adjusting to life's circumstances when he has to. Recently, Thanksgiving fell on Thursday, POOL GUY came to the pool room on, he says, Tuesday- Paul says it was Monday- but whatever, you get the idea, POOL GUY adjusted. (Good job, POOL GUY).

We asked POOL GUY some questions and he had some answers. Here's how that went.

Q: POOL GUY, it has been said that you learned to play pool on your mother's knee. Is that true?

A: No

Q: Did you go to school to play pool?

A: No

Q: To be chosen as Gold Crown's first POOL GUY you must have distinguished yourself in some way. How did you do that?

A: I don't know.... actually... I don't think it had anything to do with pool. I think it's because I went to Prep with Paul thirty years ago.

Q: You can't say THAT!

A: Heh, heh

Q: So do you do anything other than play pool?

A: I bike, I cook and I play pool.

Q: What advice can you give to those people looking to be chosen to be POOL GUY?

A: Come in and play pool every day... as often as they can ... at Gold Crown.

So there you are. Congratulations Vincent Brocci ! Gold Crown's First POOL GUY!

This week, POOL GUY'S "Bag of Stuff" includes matching STEELERS stadium mittens and slipper socks. He will also receive a paper weight engraved with an eight ball a Presue Isle thermometer magnet and some other stuff.
